In case of cancellation

- If you have to cancel your registration until 3 weeks before your Taster or the Training where you registered starts, I will just keep your deposit (100€ for the Taster - 400€ for the Training). If you cancel less than 3 weeks before it starts, the totality of the tuition fees of the actual module are due, whatever may be the reason for your cancellation. In "Home Sérénité", you have also to pay your accommodation if you cancel less than one month before. Be aware that you can take a private insurance to cover the risks.
- If after the Taster, the pursuit of the Training seems inappropriate for someone who registered for the whole training, we will look for an agreement. In this case, the participant pays the full price of the Taster (not early bird) and also the modules that he/she already started.
- In case a person would take your place on your recommendation, in case this person is accepted in the Training, 80 % of registration fees, minus the payment of the part that you attended, will be paid back to you as soon as I receive this person's payment. A replacement person can be accepted at the latest during the second module.
- In the case of a cancellation from my side for major personal reasons, the totality of the fees for the module that has been cancelled will be paid back to you, except expenses of plane tickets and accommodation hired by you for your journey.
